Good news in The News

Back to school night

"Back To School Night" for Parents at Antioch Community High School is planned for Thursday, Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m. The event is sponsored jointly by the Parent-Teacher Club and the school.

After a short orientation session in the commons, parents will follow their students' schedule thru a typical school day. Periods will be shortened to five minute for parents to meet briefly with teachers.

Following the completion of the classes, parents and teachers will return to the commons for a social hour with refreshments.

Bowling program

Antioch Park & Recreation is sponsoring its bowling program beginning Wednesday Oct. 10, at 3:30 p.m., at the Antioch Bowling Alley.

The cost is $16 for children from seven to 12-years of age. Call Antioch Parks & Recreation.

Old Grade School

The interior work on the "Old Grade School" turning it into an area historical museum, is progressing nicely.

The bathrooms have been framed in an await the plumbing artistry of Bob Diemer who has volunteered his services.

The revenue sharing funds from the Village of Antioch are being used for the heating plant. The installation of the new boiler, the piping and the risers to the first and second floors is well underway with several area contractors also donating their talents.

Sabin trial to start on Nov. 26

Dean Richard Sabin, 20, Paddock Lake, was arraigned on charges of murdering his neighbors John and Donna Golden, in Kenosha County Court on Oct. 4.

Charged with double homicide, Sabin, who is being held without bond in the Kenosha County jail, will go to trial in front of Kenosha County Circuit Court Judge Bruce Schroeder on Monday, Nov. 26.

The Goldens' bodies were found in their home by their son, James, on Sept. 4. The time of death has been established as being between 7 and 9:30 p.m., on Sept. 3.

Eighteen bullets were removed from the bodies and a ballistics report positively states that 10 of those bullets came from a .22 caliber rifle belonging to Sabin.

The other eight bullets came from a rifle owned by John Golden which was found next to his body.

Sabin's lawyer is Arthur Nathan of Racine. Sabin will plead not guilty. His grandmother, Margaret Sabin, with whom he lives, testified that he was with her the entire evening of the murders.

She also testified that she took his rifle to the home of relatives weeks before the murders were committed.

A possible motive mentioned by the Kenosha County District Attorney's office was an ongoing argument concerning Sabin's riding of a dirt bike on the Golden property.

The fact that five shell casings found at the murder scene matched one in the sheriff's file listed as having come from Sabin's rifle used when he accidentally shot himself at his grandmother's home last summer was what led the police to Sabin.

Medical claims Quilico sues village, cops

Charles Quilico of Antioch has filed a lawsuit claiming damages of $835,000 against Illinois Bell, one of its employees, the Village of Antioch, the Lake County Sheriff, a deputy, the Antioch Police Chief and an area resident he alleges to be a "bookie."

Quilico, who claims to be a veteran, citizen of the United States and resident of the Village of Antioch, has named Robert Hueckstaedt as the first defendant.

Quilico claims that Hueckstaedt, an employee of Illinois Bell, "used the telephone box at the rear of Quilico's home to set up billing of a "bookie" operation" that Quilico alleges was being run out of the Antioch VFW Hall on North Ave..

In October of 1983 a Lake County jury returned with a not guilty verdict in a charge made by Hueckstaedt and Illinois Bell that the lineman was assaulted by Quilico while he was working on the telephone lines behind Quilico's property.

Quilico claimed to have an extra line running into his house and when he saw Hueckstaedt working on the lines in the rear of his home, he asked for identification and was refused it until he drew a gun on the Bell employee.

Illinois Bell is being sued for repeatedly billing Quilico $300 for these alleged "bookie" calls.

Quilico said that he had filed a complaint with the Antioch Police Dept., of which Charles Miller is the chief, that Adam Wojick, the alleged bookie operating out of the VFW Hall, issued death threats against him.

He also states that he later made the same complaint to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. headed by Sheriff Robert (Mickey) Babcox, and still nothing was done.

Deputy Perry Coleman was the arresting officer in the assault charge.

Quilico names John and Jane Does in the lawsuit and claims to "have been wrongfully tried by States Atty. Fred Foreman and his complaints ignored by Attorney General Donald Warner.

The lawsuit claims that as a result of the stress caused by the false assault arrest and the trial, he suffered a heart attack, had his civil rights violated and had to have heart bypass surgery which incurred $35,000 worth of medical bills.

Law could change

Raps ordinance, enforcement

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch Mayor Ray Toft said that he thinks the present sign ordinance is "ridiculous."

"People should be able to advertise what they have to sell," he said criticizing the stringent requirements of the voluminous ordinance.

The sign ordinance has been under the jurisdiction of the zoning committee, but Toft said that he expected its handling to be turned back to the village board soon.

He added that he also hoped and expected some modifications of that ordinance in the future.

Like many municipalities, it seems that the Village of Antioch has many ordinances on the books that are not enforced.

One in particular has bothered many Antioch retailers and residents, the sign ordinance.

The sign ordinance for the village is almost 40 typewritten, very specific pages. Remember the big fuss when the "Golden Arches" moved into town.

The newspaper and the village hall are constantly being besieged by people complaining of sign ordinance violations. But nothing is being done.

The News does not necessarily feel that all the specifications in this wordy ordinance are right, but when a law is on the books it should either be enforced or modified or taken off of the books.

Antioch wants and needs all the businesses it can get and has in other areas made every effort to entice new residents.

It would be a shame if enforcing the ordinance would hamper such. Maybe some of the specifications in the ordinance are too strict. It is certainly to the advantage of both the retailer and the consumer to have signs identifying businesses as easy to find and read as possible.

An example of one of the present violations seems to be the one banning mobile signs. They are to be found in front of many village businesses.

The argument is not whether these should be banned, but if they are not, why not take the order off of the village ordinance books?

If people really object to what they think are violations of this ordinance, the proper procedure is to voice their objections in front of the village board at a regular board meeting.

Sheriff gives bike rules

"Now that school is back in, we're seeing more and more children riding their bicycles to and from school," Sheriff Robert H. Babcox stated.

"All too often, children, like adults, sometimes

Today, dermatologists have many effective treatments to control blemishes and prevent scarring. Treatment with topical antibiotics, such as Cleocin-T, is very effective.

Experts report that there is no longer any reason why anyone has to suffer from an acne condition.

become creatures of habit and overlook simple safety precautions. I would like to ask all school children who ride their bicycles to remember a few safety rules," he said.

*Only one person belongs on your bike. Never let a second person ride with you.

*Allow plenty of room for a safe stop. Never follow bikes or cars too closely.

*Keep both hands on the handle bars for safe steering.

*Always give the proper signals. Keep a firm grip on the handle bars with your right hand and use your left arm and hand to signal turns and stops.

*Try to avoid riding your bike at night. However, if you must ride at night, you should equip your bike with a good headlight and rear reflectors. Riders should wear light colored or reflective clothing.

*Make sure you obey all traffic signs and signals. Stop completely at stop signs and always look both ways before starting out again.

Sheriff Babcox explained that it is easy to fall into a routine in riding a bicycle back and forth to school, but he reminds, "A bicyclist is like a motorist, and must be skilled like a driver in handling his vehicle. We must all be cautious when traveling the roads."

It is part of the well-being programs the hospital is committed to providing on a regular basis.

The Women of the Moose business meeting on Sept. 12 was attended by 39 members. Two new co-workers, Cecelia Stroud and Diane Stams, sponsored by Margie Turner, were enrolled.

Lolly Maloney, acting on behalf of the membership chairman welcomed the new members and thanked sponsor Turner for increasing the membership. Both new members and sponsor Turner were presented with a covered wagon pin, the theme of the membership drive.

Senior Regent Peggy Learmont directed the balloting of five new candidates. The ballot was favorable.

Recorder Terry Smallwood, read the publicity report, minutes of previous meetings and correspondence.

Gifts were presented by Senior Regent Learmont to the September birthdays: Emily Novotny, Jeanne Van Zandt, and Alice Meilen as well as the co-worker of the month, Ritual Director Judy Page.

State convention reports were given by Senior Regent

Learmont, Recorder Smallwood, Jr. Graduate Regent Mavis Dingsdale and Ritual Director Page.

Congratulations were in order for Jr. Graduate Regent Dingsdale on receipt of her letter from Mooseheart that the Chapter had earned the 1983-84 Award of Achievement enabling her to be awarded with a "Green Cap" at the annual convocation being held in Madison, Wis., on Oct. 28.

The green cap will be worn at every meeting of the Women of the Moose until her year as Jr. Graduate Regent is completed June 30, 1985. A special meeting in her honor is set for Sunday, Dec. 2.

Mooseheart Chairman Peggy Kaddatz and Moosehaven Chairman Anita Carter distributed gift lists for the Christmas walks for each to be held Oct. 4.

The presents will be sent to Mooseheart and Moosehaven by the end of the month to enable headquarters to sort out presents received from all Moosedomes for the Christmas giving.

Dates for October were given by Senior Regent Learmont including the business meeting of the Oct. 18; Ritual practice, Oct. 23; College of Regents "Fall into Fashion" on Oct. 25; children's Halloween Party, Oct.; adult Halloween Party same day, that night; pumpkin painting contest during breakfast on Oct. 14.

Pressure Check

Free blood pressure screening will be offered to the public on Thursday, Oct. 18, at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite (STATS), located on Rte. 59, just south of Grand Ave. in Lake Villa. No registration is required, just stop by between 11 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The medical term for high blood pressure is "hypertension." Left untreated, high blood pressure increases the risk of premature illness or death from coronary heart disease, stroke, and heart or kidney failure.

It is part of the well-being programs the hospital is committed to providing on a regular basis.

For information on this lecture or the upcoming lectures on "Stress at Work" or "Stress and the Adolescent," call (312) 362-2900, ext. 5275.

Stress fire prevention during special week

The Antioch Fire Dept. would like to remind everyone that Oct. 7 through Oct. 13 is designated as Fire Prevention Week.

This year the Antioch Fire Dept. is stressing the installation of smoke detectors in every home. The Village of Antioch and the Antioch First Fire Protection Dist. have enacted ordinances which require every home to have at least one smoke detector in the house.

Smoke detectors have saved many lives that would not have been saved if detectors were not installed. Anyone not having a smoke detector in their home as yet, should buy at least one and help save their own life or the life of someone very dear to them.

As usual, the Antioch Fire Prevention bureau will be going to the schools within its jurisdiction, delivering booklets on fire safety. These booklets were purchased by local merchants, who help the fire department promote fire safety. The Antioch Fire Dept., Fire Prevention Bureau would like to thank the merchants for their generous support of our program through their donations.

Tours of the fire station are available by calling the Antioch Village Hall and leaving a name and phone number so an appointment can be made.

Also, any group or organization that would like to have a talk on fire safety can contact Asst. Chief Jim Quedenfeld at (312) 395-1355 and make the arrangements.

Reagan meets 'Critter'

President Reagan gave a boost to the sale of the Lake County Republican Federation's realistic limited-edition ceramic elephant called "Critter."

Writing to Federation President Ned Fisher of Waukegan, Reagan said, "You and the members of the Lake County Republican Federation were good to think of me during our visit to Dallas and I want you to know how pleased I am by your kindness."

State Sen. Adeline Jay Geo-Karis (R-Zion) hand-carried the sculptured elephant to the GOP National Convention in August and delivered it to the Reagan campaign as a gift for the President.

"Thank you for remembering me with the Elephant Stone Critter," the President wrote. "This first-edition piece is indeed appreciated, and I am truly grateful to all of you for your steadfast support."

"As I continue to work toward the goals which we all desire, I shall do everything possible to hold on to your confidence. Nancy joins me in sending best wishes," he added.

Marked "GOP 1984," the exquisitely detailed elephants will make "beautiful gifts for campaign helpers, uniquely attractive Christmas gifts, also for those who want to start an elephant collection," said Mrs. Harvey Metzler, Federation executive secretary.

"Critter" will be on sale for $12 through the November election at Republican Headquarters, 128 N. Genesee St. in Waukegan. Funds raised will be used to help maintain the GOP Headquarters.

When I think about it Memories of Ma and Pa

by GLORIA DAVIS

According to Mr. Webster, "Progress" means to improve or move forward.

And who is more into the "Big P" than we Americans who are always searching and inundating new frontiers.

I recently had an unpleasant experience with a totally American concept of progress in the restaurant business, that of "World of Fast Foods."

Fast food restaurants are supposedly dedicated to the quick serving of uniform edible products that are lower in cost than those served by a full service restaurant.

Volume and self-service supposedly account for "lower prices." You know "the only place you can eat a full meal and get change from a dollar bit!"

Though a facsimile of these restaurants still remain in rural or suburban areas, in most urban areas of the country, the American family's love for fast foods has put the "Ma and Pa" restaurants right out of business.

The restaurants I'm talking about were those usually owned by a local resident. They had a modest but clean atmosphere and often featured home-made food at affordable prices.

Few of those that owned this type of restaurant became wealthy but if the food was good and the service commendable, this was the place the family ate when mom just didn't feel like cooking.

Single people and senior citizens, who usually got a discount, found these eateries ideal for their lifestyle.

Now I'm not talking about the 24-hour restaurants that have a huge menu, mostly made-up of preprepared foods, that are to be found everywhere.

These are fine and evidently, if they are to be judged by their numbers, have a place in today's society as they serve their edibles, neither bad or memorable.

The eateries I mean usually had the owners (who knew everyone in town) doing that homemade cooking and baking of homemade pies and three or four very special entrees that changed daily.

My husband and I came head to head with their replacement when we stopped at a particular "juicy" fast food restaurant to save time and money while we were involved in helping my mother to move.

We each had a double cheeseburger and fancy-topped baked potato plus a diet beverage (got to watch those calories!).

We waited on ourselves at the counter and proceeded to the table with our tissue-thin paper and plastic eating utensils.

Some of the time we were saving was eaten-up by trying to find a table that was not laden with the refuse of previous diners.

We finally spotted one and wended our way to a table through the patches of bun, meat and French fry scraps that dotted the carpeting.

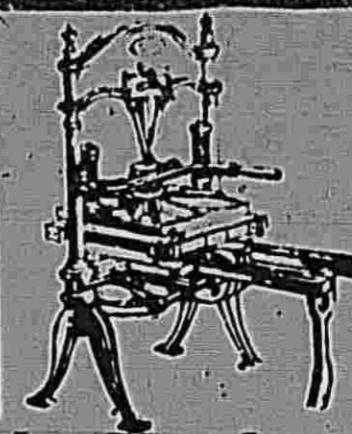

As we ate in what could easily have passed for a small garbage dump, using a filmy paper napkin for a plate, we had to constantly get up to replace our "dabbing" napkins, their thinness bringing to mind the commercial that said "A little dab will do you," since one dab did them in.

And for all this wonderful progress we only paid $6.50 apiece. What a wonderful and inexpensive way to dine!

Forgetting reports on the nutritional non-value of fast food, we got a chance to wait on ourselves, dine in a lovely landfill atmosphere, sans dishes and silver, for what should buy a good meal, served by a waitress on real china, with real silverware and absorbent paper napkins.

There are still some of these restaurants around, so tell me please why aren't they the millionaires instead of the fast food kings?

Statistics tell us that more American people ate in one fast food restaurant last year than all the other restaurants in its franchise area put together. Ain't progress grand!

Congrats to this year's winner of the "Mr. ACHS" contest, Mike McGrain!

This fairly new homecoming event has proved to be a popular and entertaining one as the high school males spoof the beauty contests.

And who is more congenial than that most gracious and friendly John Reidlinger.

Little by little, Wilton's charming restaurant, "Struggles" is looking better and better as they add to the decor.

Everybody's getting into the act! I see where the Ben Franklin Store now has a new video department!

We always knew that they were pretty special but now the Board of Advisers for the Outstanding Young men of America awards. From our area William Donald Stanley is the latest reason for Antioch to be proud.

Hear that Colleen Devries (soon to be Valentine) got a ton of useful and beautiful gifts at the two wedding showers that were held for her last week.

Tch! Tch! Wha' hoppen Officer Ron Roth. Hear you lost a motorcycling speeder last week. Maybe you're sliding out of your usual "fast lane," Officer Roth.

Sorry to see long time residents Jack and Betty Davis leave Antioch. Motoring around the country, especially in the south as soon as the weather turns cold, is the present plan, says Betty.

County to mark National 4-H Week

October 7-13 is National 4-H week, and it will be celebrated throughout Lake County with 4-H club exhibiting displays in store windows, libraries, shopping malls and other community centers.

4-H members will be giving talks and demonstrations to various community and civic organizations to spread the exciting news of what the 4-H program offers to the young people in Lake County.

4-H, a youth educational program of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, is open to all boys and girls between the ages of 8-19.

There are over 1,000 young people in Lake County participating in the 4-H program.

Reunion of old friends Klass visits old home

A former prominent Antioch resident, Mrs. Myrtle Klass, owner, with her husband, Otto of the Otto Klass Men's s, were honored a a party on Oct. 4, at Struggles Restaurant.

The restaurant is presently the home of the stained glass sign which formerly hung over the men's store located in the spot that presently houses the Antioch Mental Health Thrift Shop on the east-side of Main St.

During their stay in Antioch, Mrs. Klass and her daughter, Doris Marshall were guests of the Mel Knirsch's of Grass Lake.

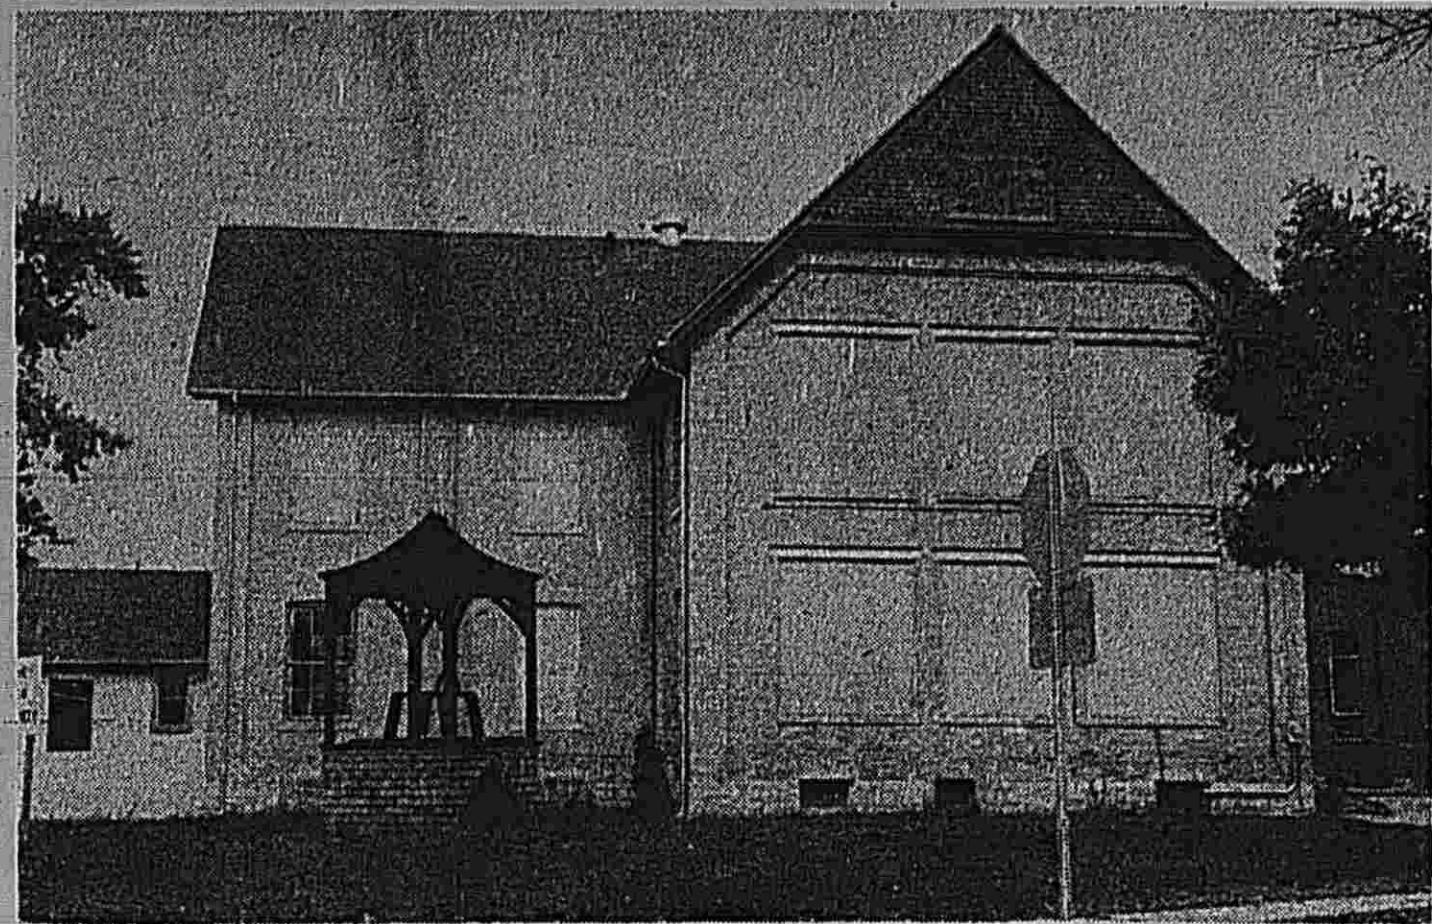

Accompanied by four of Mrs. Marshall's five children; Stephen, New York; John, Atlanta, Ga.; Robert, Detroit, Mich., and Joy of Chicago.

On Oct. 4, Mrs. Klass, who is now living in Miami, Fla., and Mrs. Marshall, who resides in Birmingham, Mich., were entertained at a tea for old friends at the Knirsch home.

Most of these friends had not seen each other in 37 years.

While living in Antioch, Myrtle Klass served as matron of the Eastern Star, president of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary, oracle of the Royal Neighbors and president of the Professional Business and Woman's Club. She also served on the Antioch Grade School Board.

TOWER NOT ON TOP YET — Bell Tower donated to Lakes region Historical Museum by Mayor Ray Toft still hasn't been put on top of the building as intended. Historical society president Mel Knirsch said that the first effort at raising bell didn't work because the machine being used could not lift the bell high enough. Police warn fraternity

Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller warns that again this year a group that call themselves the Fraternal Order of Police is calling people in the Antioch area trying to sell something under the guise of being connected with the local policemen.

Last year they were selling tickets to a policeman's ball. This year, they are identifying themselves as the Antioch Fraternal Order of Police while they are soliciting for aids in a police publication.

Miller warns against any such purchase because there is no Antioch Fraternal Order of Police!

Warren meets congressmen

Michael Warren, broker at Century 21 Michael Warren & Co., Antioch, Ill., met with five members of Congress while attending the prestigious Century 21 National Brokers Communication Congress in Washington, D.C. in Sept. Warren urged that new imputed interest rules enacted as part of the 1984 Tax Reform Act be repealed because of the anticipated negative impact on seller financing of homes and other forms of real estate. Unless repealed, the new rules are scheduled to go into effect on Jan. 1, 1985.

The response from Congressmen Bob McEwen, Delbert Latta, Philip Crane, Mike Oxley and Mike DeWine was supportive, Warren said.

While in Washington, Warren also heard presentations by Dr. Jack Carlson, chief economist for the National Assn. of Realtors, and top officers and specialists in the Century 21 system.

Obituaries

Cheryl Ella Pflager

Memorial services for Cheryl Ella Pflager, 101, of Chagrin Falls, Ohio were held on Oct. 7 in Antioch.

Mrs. Pflager died on Oct. 3 in Ohio. She was born on Nov. 9, 1882 in Chicago and she and her husband lived at Channel Lake for the summers before moving to the Homecrest Foundation in Evanston and later to Ohio.

She was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Evanston; the Daughters of the American Revolution; State Officer of the Children of the American Revolution and attended the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Antioch for many years.

Survivors include one daughter, Darthea (Donald) Schmidt of Coral Gables, Fla.; one son, Miller (Ruth) of Chagrin Falls; seven grandchildren; and 10 great grandchildren.

Private interment was held at Hillside Cemetery in Antioch.

Arrangements were handled by the Strang Funeral Home, 1055 Main St., Antioch.

The world's first known zoo was kept by Queen Hatshepsut of Egypt about 1500 B.C. Giraffes, monkeys and leopards were part of the collection.

Ask Dr. Sven

by Robert T. Sven B.S.D.D.S.

ANTIBIOTICS

Q. Can antibiotics take the place of other types of treatment for periodontal disease?

A. The purpose of antibiotics is to control infection. Based on that, they may be prescribed early on in severe forms of periodontal disease. They are also given after treatment and as an adjunctive medication to patients with rapidly progressing periodontal disease.

However, long term use of antibiotics is no substitute for the accepted professional methods for treating periodontal disease: scaling, curettage and/or surgery.

Bradbury Film Festival to precede author's visit

On Saturday, Oct. 20 and Sunday, Oct. 21, the weekend preceding the author's celebrated visit to his native Waukegan, a film festival of Ray Bradbury's favorite films will be shown at the Genesee Theatre in Waukegan.

Bradbury selected "Fahrenheit 451," "Something Wicked This Way Comes," and the 1956 classic, "Moby Dick," (for which he wrote the screenplay) as the three films he personally liked best.

Daily admission will be $1.50 per person with continuous showings of the films from early afternoon until late evening, allowing patrons ample opportunity to sample the scope of Bradbury's art.

"Fahrenheit 451" (1967) portrays a futuristic society in which all printed material is banned.

"Something Wicked This Way Comes" (1983) is a fantasy about the circus inspired by memories of Bradbury's childhood in Waukegan.

"Moby Dick" (1956) is the Herman Melville classic adapted for the screen by Mr. Bradbury.

Schedule for the two day film extravaganza is as follows: Saturday, Oct. 20 — 12:55 p.m., Fahrenheit 451; 3 p.m., Moby Dick; 5:10 p.m., Something Wicked This Way Comes; 7 p.m., Fahrenheit 451; and 9:05 p.m., Moby Dick.

Sunday, Oct. 21 — 12:55 p.m., Something Wicked This Way Comes; 2:45 p.m., Fahrenheit 451; 4:50 p.m., Moby Dick; 7 p.m., Something Wicked This Way Comes; and 8:50 p.m., Fahrenheit 451.

Ray Bradbury will be in Waukegan Oct. 26, 27 and 28 with live productions of his works by the Waukegan Community Players highlighting his visit.

For complete ticket and festival information contact the City of Waukegan at (312) 689-7495, or the Genesee Theatre, (312) 336-0428.

Plan career poster contest

A poster and poetry contest for students in Lake County schools on the theme "Career Guidance Linking Education to Work" is being announced by the Lake County Career Guidance Consortium.

Gov. James Thompson has proclaimed Nov. 4-10 as Career Guidance Week in Illinois.

To increase career awareness, the National Vocational Guidance Assn. is sponsoring this contest for students enrolled in public, private, and parochial schools. Posters can represent a specific career or groups of careers, or illustrate the national theme.

The poem topic must be related to the world of work, careers, jobs, professions and/or feelings about work.

Awards will be given to first place winners in four district level divisions: Primary, Elementary, Junior High and Senior High.

Further information is available from the local schools or Jerry Gudauskas, Lake County Career Guidance Consortium (312) 223-6681.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. James Weise

Ploss—Weise

The Ploss residence on Deep Lake in Lake Villa was the site for the summer wedding of Jeannette Ploss and James Weise. She is the daughter of Douglas and Mary-Jeanne Ploss of Lake Villa. He is the son of James and Joan Weise of Irvine, Calif., formerly of Lindenhurst.

Following the garden ceremony in front of Judge William Homer, the couple were honored during an outdoor reception.

The bride wore a dress she fashioned of summer cotton and which was adorned with white ribbons at the waist. She also wore her mother's seed-pearl princess headpiece.

Amy James of Park City was her sister's matron of honor, and best man was Peter Ploss, brother of the bride.

Bridesmaid and groomsman were Laura Weise, sister of the groom; and John Ploss, brother of the bride.

The newlyweds took a two-week tour of the Hawaiian Islands. They are at home in Irvine.

The new Mrs. Weise is a graduate of Antioch Community High School.

Sershon—Simmons

Patricia Sershon of Antioch has announced the marriage of her daughter Janet Ann Sershon to Daniel Lee Simmons of Traverse City, Mich., Sept. 21 at Trinity United Methodist Church in Lindenhurst.

Biel to appear in Eastern play

Andrew Biel, son of Aileen and Paul Biel, Antioch, will be seen in the role of Peter

Van Daan in the Eastern Illinois University Theatre's Homecoming 1984 production of the "The Diary of Anne Frank." Opening Friday, Oct. 12 at 8 p.m. The play will run for five consecutive performances through Oct. 16 in the Theatre of the Doudna Fine Arts Center.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" is the Frances and Albert Hackett dramatization of a teenage Jewish girl's day-to-day record of two years in hiding from the Nazis with her parents and a neighboring family, in war-time Holland.

Biel, a sophomore at Eastern, was last seen as Burt Dinwitt in the April '84 production of "Dark of the Moon." His other production credits include Ed in "You Can't Take It With You" as well as several roles in student-directed plays in the Five O'Clock Theatre Program.

Reservations may be made by phoning (217) 581-3110 beginning Monday, Oct. 8, between 1 and 5 p.m.

Tickets for the production are $3.50 for adults, $2.50 for senior citizens and children, and $2 for EIU students.

St. Therese marks 'Respect Life' week

"Respect Life" Week will be observed Oct. 7-13 in Catholic healthcare facilities throughout the country.

According to Sister Xavier Morgan, S.S.P.S., vice president at St. Therese Hospital and chairperson for the special observance. "The annual Respect Life Week is very important to us because it sets aside a special time to recognize the values that are cherished every day in Catholic healthcare. The dignity of every person and the sanctity of every life are not just once-a-year themes to us," She says. "They are the motives for everything we do in our healthcare ministry," she added.

The annual Respect Life observance has been coordinated by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops since 1971 in response to Pope Paul VI's mandate for Christian organizations to improve society.

It is supported by the Catholic Health Assn. of the United States (CHA) and its nationwide membership of more than 900 Catholic-sponsored hospitals and nursing homes.

Antioch Hopes To Rebound From Loss

by MIKE DOMINICK

Antioch High School varsity football team will try to rebound when they play Zion-Benton, Oct. 13, in Zion. Antioch lost their first game of the season against Fenton 9-0, in a game that was controlled by the defenses.

Fenton was stopped five times in the first half inside the Antioch 40, but they were able to get a safety, after a host of fenton defenders tackled Mike Dydo in the end zone.

The first half saw Antioch unable to move the ball on offense, but with their keen defensive play they were able to keep the score at 2-0.

The second half started out just like the first half ended with fenton controlling the game on defense.

With 1:54 to play in the third quarter Glen Morris passed five yards to Ken Ziegler for the touchdown that put the game out of reach for the Sequoits.

Both teams exchanged punts in the fourth quarter with Antioch never being able to get close enough to put any points on the board.

Antioch will be back next week when they face Zion-Benton, and Antioch fans can be assured Antioch will come back strong.

Language Skills

Language skills can influence your child's learning ability. "Language and Learning in the Young," a discussion scheduled for 8 p.m., Oct. 18 at Lake Forest Hospital, will help parents understand the development of speech and language skills and their effect on children's success in school.

Speech-language pathologists Sherry Harms and Paula Kwitt will give an overview of language development and its impact upon preschool and elementary learning. They also will discuss when to consult pediatricians and other key professionals if a language problem is suspected.

The lecture is free and will be held in the Conference Center of Lake Forest Hospital, 660 N. Westmoreland Rd., Lake Forest.

For more information, call (312) 234-5600, ext. 6700.

Here's some advice from the home economists to help you keep your dryer in tip-top shape:

- Never leave wet or damp laundry in your dryer.
- Clean lint screen before each load.
- Sharp or heavy objects should never be put on top or in the dryer. Check pockets for bolts, nuts, nails, etc.
- Remove sharp objects from clothing before drying—pins, buckles, etc. Close metal zippers.

Hydrants To Be Flushed

The Village of Antioch Water Dept. will be flushing hydrants starting October 14th, during the hours of 11 P.M. and 5 A.M. Monday through Friday. The area of the Village West of Main Street will be flushed the first week, and the area East of Main Street will be flushed the second week.

Outlook for Lupus sufferers brighter

Americans with lupus will have good reason to celebrate during Lupus Awareness Week, Oct. 21-27.

The outlook for people with this life-threatening disease is more promising than ever before, reports the Arthritis Foundation.

"Life expectancy for people with lupus has doubled in the last 20 years," said Daniel J. Hirszen, M.D., chairman of the Medical and Scientific Committee of the Arthritis Foundation's Illinois Chapter.

"THE CAN now live nearly normal lives due to better methods of diagnosis and more effective drugs," he added.

As many as 500,000 Americans have lupus, including about 110,000 with systemic lupus erythematosus, or SLE, the most serious form of the disease.

Lupus is an inflammatory disorder of the connective tissue, which damages the structure and function of vital organs such as the kidneys, heart and brain. It also affects the joints, muscles, skin, gastrointestinal tract, nervous system and, in particular, the immune system.

"Lupus is basically a case of the body's immune system going haywire," said Dr. Hirszen. "The symptoms vary a great deal from person to person and are often similar to those of other diseases, making it difficult to diagnose."

SOME warning signs include fever, weakness, fatigue, unexplained weight loss, swollen glands, depression, stiff and swollen joints, and a rash in areas exposed to sunlight.

While SLE is much less life threatening than it once was, it is still a serious disease which causes major changes in a person's lifestyle. Treatment, which includes a combination of medication, exercise, rest and avoiding exposure to the sun, must be continual.

Some of the drugs used to treat the disease can have serious side effects. Women, who are affected eight to ten times more often than men, may have special problems with pregnancy.

Lupus Awareness Week is a special time to educate the public about this serious arthritis-related disease. Lupus is more prevalent than muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis or leukemia, yet it is relatively unknown.

The Arthritis Foundation sponsors more research each year into the causes and cures of this disease than any other volunteer health agency. Persons who would like a copy of the brochure titles Systemic Lupus Erythematosus, contact the Illinois Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation at 79 W. Monroe, Suite 1120, Chicago, 60603; (312) 783-1367 or (800) 572-2397.
